DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-15 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 and 19-22 of copending Application No. 09/785,051. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because for example

Re claim 1, the '051 application claims

A fiber optic receiver, comprising: a substrate; a receiver optical sub-assembly (ROSA) mounted on the substrate and comprising a fiber optic connector for coupling to a mating connector of a fiber optic cable; an opto-electronic transducer incorporated within the ROSA and configured to generate an electrical data signal in response to a received optical data signal; an adjustable response preamplifier circuit incorporated within the ROSA, coupled to the opto-electronic transducer, and operable to amplify an electrical data signal generated by the opto-electronic transducer; and a post-amplifier circuit mounted on the substrate, coupled to an output of the preamplifier circuit, and configured to transmit a mode control signal to the preamplifier circuit over one or more common lines coupled between the preamplifier circuit and the post-amplifier circuit in response to a received data rate control signal. ('051, claim 20) and an adjustable response preamplifier circuit electrically coupled to the optoelectronic circuit. While the '051 application does not disclose an adjustable bandwidth post-amplifier circuit, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to make the post-amplifier circuit adjustable as in the preamplifier circuit. One is motivated as such since the post-amplifier circuit further amplifies the signal output from the preamplifier circuit, the bandwidth response profile of the post-amplifier circuit should match that of the preamplifier circuit to avoid an uneven gain of signals across a wide bandwidth.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
